Political Views after a Visit South. Discontent Subsiding with the In-

He had been received everywhere, He had been received everywhere, he said, with extreme kinhuess. He had made speeches at Richmond, Raleigh and Macon. There was much less sectional jealousy than there had been. Southerners were glad to welcome northern men among them, and to let them know that the south had been misrepresented by those of the carpet-bag stripe for political purposes. As an evidence of this, Mr. Bayard said that Judge K lly, of Pennsylvania, had been treated with marked respect. This shows the absurdity of the bloody shirt stories which were constantly flaunted before the country by the administration people as evidence of the south's disloyalty and the people's unfitness to govern them-

Another singularity is its constant uneasiness, for, in no matter in what position the body may be, it is continually swaying to and fro, reminding one at once of the peculiar nature of the savage bear as it rocks from one side of the cage to the other. It always eats its food with its hands, and some time since method of relief and cure without the annoyance and injury resulting from the use of trusses. The celebrated Dr. Stone, in his disseria ion of rupture, says:

"Trusses undermine the constitution just as certain as the perpetual drepping of water wears away a stone. The force of the front pad upon the abdomen affects the bladder, and coming in contact, as it of nencessity does, with the ligaments, tendons and spermatic cords, is jures their important founctions to such an extent as to bring on the mortifying condition of impotency, peevishness and dejection of spirits, while the pressure across the lower part of the spine is productive of headache, lumbago and kidney diseases. These complicated affections produced by using trusses compel the unfortunate sooner or later to look upon life as di-pelling rather than inviting pleasure."

METHOD OF CURE FOR

The cure is effected by Dr. SHERMAN'S method without any operation, simply by external local applications, both mechancal and medicinal, made daily by the patient, who, while under treatment, can perform any kind of labor, or take the most active exercise with perfect security from dangers of inflamed and strangulated rupture, without the suffering and injury caused by the use of trusses, and without interfering with the progress of cure. THE ALABAMA ELECTION.

The new constitution was ratified by not less than 60,000 majority. It was a glorious victory. The instrument itself is an admirable one, protecting as it does the rights of all, and cutting off every unnecessary expense of government At Montgomery yesterday it was thought that Dallas and Montgomery were the only counties that had woted against ratification. Tre Advertiser of that city therefore brought out all of its chanticleers, four-teen in number, to celebrate the dawning of a better day upon a redeemed state—a thoroughly redeemed state. We congratulate our readers across the line on the grand and blessed result. Now

In speaking of the colored people of the south, Senator Bayard said he believed that the democratic party could and did not rely upon any portion of their vote. They were too solidly bound together by the secrets and oaths of their societies to vote any ticket but that which these societies put into their hands. Therefore the safety of the south depended entirely upon the white people's maintaining their political organization, undisturbed by factions or merely personal ambitions. He would advise them to relax no effort to maintain their organization until their equality in the union been thrown on the market, Dr. S. B. Collins, of LaPorte, Indiana, was the real discoverer.

The undisputed date of the Doctor's discovery is July 1838, and for a long time thereafter he was the only man who represented him elf as being able to even mitigate the horrors of the terrible disease

Looked upon at first as at best a desperate experiment, it is to-day conceded to be exactly what it is represented to be, Painless, Farmanent and infallible Remedy for the Opium Habit.

Out of the large number of unsolicited testimonials we select the following:

ALBION, NEW YORK, July 8th, 1875.

Dr. S. B. COLLINS, LaPorte, Ind.:

Dear Sir—Several weeks have elapsed ince I took the last dose of your Priceless Antidote to the Opium Habit.

To you and to God I owe my restoration to health and happiness once more, and I know if I had followed your directions more perfectly I should have been well long ago. I fels gome nervousness for a night or two, but now I rest sweetly all night.

For twelve years I was a slave to the terrible habit of Morphine Eating, but thank God I am free once more and I anall prayes God through all eteruity that I ever saw one of your circulars.

I would recommend all slaves of Opium In any form to try the I octor's Antidote. It will cure you if you follow the directions carefully.

Make what use of this you choose, and

I am confident that had I taken Morphine two weeks longer I could not have survived its effects, for it had almost entirely destroyed my strength of mind and body, but by the hand of providence I was led to confident.

Hoping that all your patients may meet with the same success as myself, and that you and your medicine may prosper as before, I remain truly yours,

C. H. WILLIAMS.

The fact that Dr. Collins could painlessly cure the oplum habit has long since become a settled thing in the minds of the observing and well read persons.

The testimonials produced by the doctor are very numerous and we positively know that each and every one are bons fide and that each truth of every one could be substantiated under oath.

Having known Dr. Collins for a long senes of years, the editor of this paper gl dly testifies to the fact Dr. Collins' ability to perform all that he promises.

Place is given for one testimonial out of the many we have on file, showing that a person, though beyond the age of three score years and ten, can find in the antidote of Dr. Collins a sure relief and a speedy cure. But here is the letter.

WEST ENOSURGH, VT., May 25, 1875.

Dr. 8. B. Collins, La Porte, Ind.:

Dear Sir—I had in contemplation to write to you how I was getting along and to do this I must begin away back. I was taken very violently, and the doctors gave me ether and something eise, in the expectation that I would not live long. But I continued to live on, and they thought I had the heart disease, and they fed me with, (I don't know about ether,) and morphine about a month. four doses per twenty-four hours. They then thought I was not going to die yet, and they put me to one dose of morphine per twenty-four hours, and this I followed for about two years. When I was without they gave me some nore. I had, before this, lost my appetite and most of my fiesh. I used to weigh one hundred and eighty-four pounds; I now weigh one hundred and eighty-four pounds; I now weigh one hundred and fifteen, and I found I could not live without morphine. The desire was greater than my resolution, and I thought I might as well have it and die—so I commenced buying it bo the bottle to save expense. And I practiced in this way for one year. At this tyme I began to think that I might recover and live yet many years. My constitution did not seem much limpaired, but the thought that I must use morphice always or suffer the horro

The St. Paul Pioneer-Press The St. Paul Ploneer-Press of the Pioneer-Press will remember the trial of Laudenschleger, Mr. Rapp and Mrs. Rapp last spring, on charges of having murdered Mrs. Lick. The difficulty that is supposed to have resulted in Mrs. Lick's death has now taken a new turn. Of course, in the murder trial allude to, Mr. Lick, the husband of the murde ed woman, was the principal witness and the progress of the trial showed that the animosity of all the defendants had been turned fiercely upon him. The whole affair grew out of a neighborhood quarrel of un-usual virolance, and terminated, as was proved, in a murder of the most atro cious chara ter. During the trials, it deavored to put in testimony to show that Mr. Lick had killed two small children, twins, just after their birth, that had been born to him soon after his marriage with Mrs. Lick. This testimony the court excluded. It will also be recollected that one of the principal wit-nesses in the murder trials for the prosecution was Theodore Haves, a son of the murdered woman by a former husband. This Theodore was a very officit faced, pleasant looking boy, and when he testified he attracted unusual attention, and a great deal of confidence was placed in all he testified to. "and shut it up in there," (and here the smile upon his expressive mouth became beaming)"and I'll tell you, Aaron, what I'll do, I will sell you this box, and what's in it, for $2 50."

"Well, I belieb I will go dat much on it anyhow," responded Aaron, as he shelled out the money and received the box. The stranger pocketed the money and Aaron received the box. When he opened it he found it contained exactly twenty five cents, and then Aaron reached for the stranger but he was gone. All the balance of the way to Kirkwood Aaron was "spilin' for a fight," and would occasionally gestic ulate wildly as if he was punching the head of an imaginary antagonist whom he had under his arm; and what is more, Aaron hasn't been able to attend prayer meeting in a proper state of mind since.

Yesterday Mr. Robson saw a man upon the street whom he thought he recognized as the affable stranger who had caused Aaron such vexation of spirit. He gave a description of him to Sergeant Butler of the police, and in less than an hour afterwards Butler had arrested him on Decatur street. He gave the name of Simon Kennedy, and seems to be a young man. The officer carried him before Justice Butts, who set the trial for Saturday morning, and released him meanwhile on bond. Kennedy says there is a mistak; and that he aint the man; but Aaron expects to be on hand, and to do some pretty tall swearing. 5,000 White Pine Doors, all sizes, 5,000 White Pine Windows, all sizes, 5,000 pair White Pine Blieds, all sizes, Mantels, Mouldings, Newel's, Stair Rails, Salusters, &c.

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA, ATLANTA, Nov. 18, 1875. AUGUSTA CIRCUIT.

Emma Jones, a mu'atto iady of doubtful appearance, stood forward yesterday morning and said she hadn't done nothing at all. "Just so," responded the court, opening his book and adjusting his glasses, "the guardhouse is full of women who haven't done nothing at all. We put seven in there the other morning."

"Let Maria Wilson draw near." So Maria, a mild eyed lady about as b'ack as Emma is brown, came up to the front and told a long story of how she went to board wid Emma," and dat dare was so much fussing and cussing about do house dat she could'nt stay dar in peace. This interesting news was cut short by Captain Anderson, who cried out "order." Maria proceeded further to state in a general way that she was a religious woman, and the other day spoke to Emma about her ungodly conduct. "And, judge, she up and told me dat she didn't want none of my mouf. Dat the grave yard was full ob fool niggers who got dar by sticking dere noses into what didn't concern dem." "Den she cussed me and called me sich names as I hab not got de face to make mention ob before dis spectable sembly."

"I guess, Emma, you need a little cooling down," said his honor, "We'll let you pay $10 and costs this time, and if that dos't do any good we'il let you repair the streets a few weeks," and Emma departed. But very little news of public interest was stirring in any of the courts yesterday. Matt Mathews, a festive darkey, swindled Mr. W. A. Morris out of a dray ticket north $190. Justice Buttinterviewed him, and now Mathew languishes where the woodline twineth.
Gus Walker was arraigned upon a charge of stealing $2 worth of wood from Mr. Crenshaw, but the case was not made out and the warrant was dismissed.

Justice Ezzard wrestled all yesterday afternoon with a bastardy case between Peter McMichael and Emma Jordan, both colored. Van Epps for the state, and Judge Wright for the defence. It will be resumed this morning.

When Joe picked himself up from the opposite corner of the chimney a few minutes later, and removed the fragments of his best broom handle from his hair, he was under a vague impression that the house was falling down. He was soon undeceived and he and his mams had a lively time, until four policemen pulled her off. The court told Joe his was a hard case, and advised him to go west, and marry an orphan.

The mother-in-law will have to pay $10 and costs, and Joe swears he will never have another.

Then court adjourned.

the following particulars:

One gentleman, about two weeks since, Mr. Henry Robson, a young gentleman of sixteen or seventeen years, well known in the city, started for his father's place near Edgewood. He had with him a wagon and a negre named Asron Smith. When Mr Robson had reached the vicinity of Edgewood church, a stranger of amiable countenance, and attractive smile approached from the bushes, and accested Aaron. The stranger was very communicative and as full of winning ways as an egg is of meat. After a brief conversation he drew a curious little box from his pocket, and woddering a $10 bill, he held them up for inspection, and asked Aaron if he saw them? "Sartinly I sees dem," says Aaron.
